

THE BAND
PRISON WINE
URBAN SOUTHERN ROCK

FROM ORLANDO, FL

BIO

Hailing from Florida, the birthplace of Southern Rock, Prison Wine is a genre-bending band of animals whose wild live shows are as infectious as their well-crafted songs effortlessly navigating multiple musical idioms while maintaining the integrity of American roots music.

The Orlando Weekly's Bao Le-Huu describes the band as, "More wide open interstate than dusty back road, this Orlando quartet play hard-charging and expansive Southern rock.... It's a big sound with lots of grease and muscle...The soulful grooves and hot guitar licks give both a smooth ride and a solid kick, like a good bourbon."

Band members include Geoffrey Cravero (vocals, guitar), Hurley Partin Whitaker (vocals, drums), Dave Mann (lead guitar), and Joshua Hoffman (bass).

FOR MEDIA INQUIRIES: press@prisonwineband.com
+1 (407) 860-0321

FOR PICS, MUSIC, VIDEOS, LINKS TO SOCIAL MEDIA & MERCHANDISE visit www.prisonwineband.com

Jim Leatherman

Orlando country rockers Prison Wine... release their long-awaited debut record

By Bao Le-Huu on Wed, Feb 15, 2023

“Debut” is a strange word to be applying to a band that’s been around for over a decade, but it’s apt for Orlando Southern-rock band Prison Wine.

While they’ve been playing stages around here among some good musical company for years, they’re only now releasing their first full-length album. Drowning Amanda Lynne is 11 new tracks of country-fried rock that’s got easygoing vibes and a sturdy stomp.

The soulful grooves and hot guitar licks give both a smooth ride and a solid kick, like a good bourbon. The album also features guest cameos by J.P. Thieme and the mighty Jessy Lynn Martens.

Prison Wine

Drowning Amanda Lynne

the debut album
'Drowning Amanda Lynne'

out now on VINYL

ALSO AVAILABLE ON ALL STREAMING PLATFORMS

Spotify

YouTube Music

Apple Music

amazon music

TIDAL

for more head to prisonwineband.com

Prison Wine has earned international acclaim since their debut album release in February 2023. Here's what they are saying:

"Drowning Amanda Lynne", Prison Wine's debut album, is an intense and passionate journey through sound rooted in years of experience and musical maturity.

-- Rádio Armazém, Indie Noise Nation (Brazil)

Prison Wine, the group from Orlando, Florida, thrills us with their new opus entitled "Drowning Amanda Lynne"... a real gem for country-fried rock fans... an authentic and powerful sound.

-- Info Music (France)

Roaring down the wide-open interstate of musical brilliance, Prison Wine is a powerhouse Orlando quartet that sets the Southern rock scene ablaze with their debut album, "Drowning Amanda Lynne." ...a big sound that oozes grease and muscle. Prison Wine unveils an extraordinary anthology of songs in their album, where the fusion of soul-stirring artistry and unparalleled musical brilliance takes center stage.

-- Allen Peterson Reviews (United Kingdom)

We recommend you listen to the complete work of this group that has a lot to offer.

-- Zona Emergente, Independent media outlet (Mexico)

Melding together the ideals of modern Americana indie, post-folk country, and legendary influences like the Grateful Dead... It's proper blues, played from the core...A delight, an utter delight...'Drowning Amanda Lynne' is the perfect blend of old and new. A country rock masterpiece for the new age. Wonderful.

-- TJPL NEWS Magazine (United Kingdom)

Prison Wine's first 6 months on Spotify
(as of 8/21/2023)

10,758 listeners

45,003 streams

462 followers